Synopsis

"In a highly volatile session, the domestic market witnessed a recovery following a mild dip though the global sentiments were not in favour of bulls. Increasing Covid cases, leading to stricter restrictions, has pressurised market volatility," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services.

Panama Petrochem was in the news after Ramesh Damani entered the counter

New Delhi: Domestic equity markets continued to gain and extended their rally to the fourth session. The benchmark indices witnessed a recovery led by banks and financials. Traders are awaiting December quarter results.

The 30-share Sensex advanced 367.22 points or 0.61 per cent to close at 60,223.15. Its broader peer Nifty50 added 120 points or 0.67 per cent to 17,925.25. The broader markets underperformed as the BSE smallcap index settled in red, whereas the midcap index gained marginally.

Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services, said: "In a highly volatile session, the domestic market witnessed a recovery following a mild dip though the global sentiments were not in favour of bulls. Increasing Covid cases, leading to stricter restrictions, has pressurised market volatility."

Panama Petrochem was in the news after Ramesh Damani entered the counter. United Drilling and HDFC stole the spotlight after announcements. KCP Sugars and Bannari Amman Sugar were under pressure due to profit-booking.

HFCL, Aprecomm tie-up to provide AI-enabled solutions

Our Bureau | New Delhi | Updated on January 05, 2022

Plans to integrate these analytics capabilities for a wider range of products and solutions

Telecom equipment manufacturer and technology provider, HFCL on Wednesday announced powering its network offerings with Artificial Intelligence (AI) based analytics, partnering with Aprecomm, the leading AI-powered Wi-Fi analytics technology provider.

Having successfully deployed and tested the AI-based solution in its Prime Minister's Wi-Fi Access Network Interface (PM-WANI) deployments, the company now plans to integrate these analytics capabilities for a wider range of its products and solutions, it said in a statement.

Henceforth, HFCL's entire IO product portfolio will have seamlessly integrated AI-powered network analytics, enhancing the experience for network service providers as well as the end users.

"Integration of Aprecomm's AI-powered solutions to our platform enables HFCL to offer enhanced user experience with added reliability and security to our customers. This partnership will help us to build resilient networks for people worldwide in all kinds of deployments. We are looking forward to expand this integration to even our switching portfolio," Mahendra Nahata, Managing Director, HFCL said.

"HFCL has already deployed this solution in all its PM-WANI deployments, monitoring thousands of clients on daily basis and enabling any issue resolution with a click of a button. It has ensured enhanced Quality of experience (QoE) using Aprecomm Evolv engine, which provides AI suggestions to resolve deployment issues that otherwise require human intervention," he said.

Overnight Digest: Stocks to be watched on January 6

Shreya Chaware / Wednesday, January 5, 2022 / Categories: Trending, Mindshare

After a cautious start in Wednesday's trading session, Indian equity benchmarks traded at day highs, with the Sensex and Nifty zooming 0.61 per cent and 0.59 per cent.

Being more hopeful, traders are keeping an eye on RBI's decision to keep the reverse repo rate unchanged in the next policy due to a surge in corona cases in India.

Except IT, pharma and power all other sectoral indices ended in the green with the auto, bank, metal, realty and oil & gas indices up 1-2 per cent. The BSE midcap index added 0.36 per cent, while smallcap index ended on a flat note.

HFCL, Aprecomm tie-up to provide AI-enabled solutions

January 5, 2022 | Team Outreach | 0 Comments

Telecom equipment manufacturer and technology provider, HFCL on Wednesday announced powering its network offerings with Artificial Intelligence (AI) based analytics, partnering with Aprecomm, the leading AI-powered Wi-Fi analytics technology provider.

Having successfully deployed and tested the AI-based solution in its Prime Minister's Wi-Fi Access Network Interface (PM-WANI) deployments, the company now plans to integrate these analytics capabilities for a wider range of its products and solutions, it said in a statement.

Henceforth, HFCL's entire IO product portfolio will have seamlessly integrated AI-powered network analytics, enhancing the experience for network service providers as well as the end users.

"Integration of Aprecomm's AI-powered solutions to our platform enables HFCL to offer enhanced user experience with added reliability and security to our customers. This partnership will help us to build resilient networks for people worldwide in all kinds of deployments. We are looking forward to expand this integration to even our switching portfolio," Mahendra Nahata, Managing Director, HFCL said.

"HFCL has already deployed this solution in all its PM-WANI deployments, monitoring thousands of clients on daily basis and enabling any issue resolution with a click of a button. It has ensured enhanced Quality of experience (QoE) using Aprecomm Evolv engine, which provides AI suggestions to resolve deployment issues that otherwise require human intervention," he said.

HFCL plans to offer this AI solution to its existing customer for over 100K existing deployments and plans to make it available for all its new customers by default, he added.
